Adams County Jail Robbed Of $45 In Cash Belonging To 12 Prisoners; Safe Was Unlocked

Sheriff Dorsey J. Schultz today revealed that the Adams county jail was burglarized of approximately $45 sometime between 10 o'clock Tuesday night and 7 o'clock Wednesday morning.

State police have joined the sheriff in the search for the criminal who apparently made his way into the office of the jail through a small coal chute to a bin in the basement. A steel door, or cover, over the chute to the coal bin remains open, at the direction of heating engineers, at all times in order to provide sufficient air for the furnace, the sheriff said. The burglar squeezed through the opening, passed through the cellar to the office and there removed envelopes containing approximately $45, all money belonging to prisoners, and placed there for safekeeping, Schultz said. The sheriff said that he would "make good" the missing money.

Safe, Not Locked
The sheriff said he had opened the safe Tuesday morning to remove some money for a prisoner who wanted to purchase some stamps, and then had pushed the door shut, but did not turn the tumblers to lock the safe. Twelve envelopes used to hold the money for the prisoners were all in the proper place in a cigar box in the safe at the time.

Wednesday morning the sheriff and Deputy James G. Warren went to Harrisburg and upon their return learned that a call had been received for two of the prisoners to be taken before the probation officer. Following usual custom, the sheriff went to the safe to see if there were any articles there which should be taken with the prisoners. He found the safe unlocked, but recalled that he had forgotten to lock it the previous day. When he opened the safe the cigar box and envelopes were missing.

Trusties Searched
At first it was believed that Turnkey Joseph Cooley had some occasion to remove the envelopes Wednesday morning and might have placed them in some other place. Cooley was away from jail on his customary Wednesday afternoon "off" and upon his return Thursday morning reported that he had not been near the safe, nor had he seen the missing money.

Two trustees, the only prisoners who could have had access to the office at any time, were questioned and searched. The trustees agreed that it "looked bad" for them, but asked that they be subjected to a lie detector test as proof of their innocence.

Unable to find the money in the jail the sheriff and his aides searched the outside. They found footprints extending from the Biglerville road to the corner of the jail, then extending to the pit in front of the coal chute opening. Other prints led from the pit to the side of the jail wall and then back to the highway.

Search along the way, uncovered the envelopes, now empty, and the cigar box, hidden in a corn shock near the jail.

The burglar apparently had entered the jail via the coal chute, had gone past the furnace, along a hallway and then upstairs to the jail office. There he had opened the safe and apparently some noise frightened him, for he failed to discover some additional money in the safe. Prisoners, locked behind the heavy steel door leading to the cell block, heard no noise, nor did the sheriff and his family, who were asleep upstairs when the intruder entered the jail.

BUS PLUNGES DOWN 20-FOOT EMBANKMENT

One person was injured and hospitalized at the Warner hospital early this morning, and several others shaken up when a Pittsburgh to Washington Greyhound bus skidded on the icy highway on the Baltimore pike 12 1/2 miles south of Gettysburg, and plunged down a 20-foot embankment.

At the hospital the injured man's name was given as Lewis Toth, 39, of 144 Church Walk, Falls Church, Va.

Toth suffered a sprained back, and is being held at the hospital for observation.

The accident occurred on a curving hill about a mile and a half south of the Maryland-Pennsylvania state line and a mile and a half north of Silver Run, Md., bus company officials said. The bus went down a 20-foot embankment after skidding off the highway. It was in charge of driver Lawson of Baltimore.

Treated At Scene
A doctor treated those who received only minor injuries at the scene of the accident, and all the passengers except Toth continued on their journey in another bus sent out from Gettysburg.

The bus left Gettysburg enroute to Washington by way of Baltimore at 2:33 o'clock this morning. It was due in Baltimore at 4:18 a.m. and in Washington at 5:43 a.m., the bus station here said.

It was ten minutes late leaving Gettysburg because of ice and snow encountered between Ft. Loudon and Gettysburg. Bus drivers said there was no ice west of Ft. Loudon.

There was no towing equipment available anywhere near the scene of the wreck heavy enough to pull the bus up the embankment, and Greyhound officials sent for equipment from the L. B. Smith company, Lemoyne.

SPILLED OIL BURNS AUMEN

Fire Chief James A. Aumen, who is recovering from first and second degree burns of the face received at a fire which destroyed the storehouse of John H. Fritz, Cashtown, Thursday morning, said today that he was not pulling a barrel of coal oil out of the fire when he was burned.

"Assistant Chief Donald McSherry, Clarence Claybaugh and myself were walking around the end of the small building," Aumen said. "Some other firemen were attempting to pull down the outside wall to get at the fire. When the wall fell, it tipped over a 50-gallon drum of coal oil which had been sitting inside the building against this wall.

"The spilled coal oil flared up just as we were passing. I was the nearest and got the worst of it, although Claybaugh suffered a slight burn on his neck. McSherry was not burned."

Aumen said he was not engaged in pulling the wall down, nor in attempting to remove the kerosene. "If I had known it was there, I wouldn't have been there," he said. "None of us knew about the drum."

Two hours after the discovery of the fire, firemen recovered the body of Mr. Fritz, near a stove in the center of the building.

Californian Wins Crown As World's Champion Liar

Burlington, Wis., Dec. 29 (AP)—A Californian who wandered far afield for the locale of a weird weather story was crowned today as the world's champion liar of 1950.

The Burlington Liars' club picked this one by Frank J. Goulette, of Alhambra, Calif., from a pack of lies submitted from all over the nation and from foreign lands in its annual contest.

"One winter, while I was working on a pile driver in North Dakota it got so cold that one night a member of our crew froze to death in bed. The ground was frozen so hard that it was impossible to dig a grave. In fact, we never did find out how far down it was frozen. But this I do know: Seeing we couldn't dig a grave, we stood the fellow on his head under the pile-driver—and we had to drive on him seven days and seven nights before we got him down far enough for a decent burial!"

The judges liked this one by Joseph Flynn of Cleveland, Ohio, enough to give it honorable mention: "One night," Flynn lied, "when I was firing on the railroad, we got orders to go into a sidetrack to let a passenger by. We had a long drag, including 65 carloads of canaries, and when we got the highball the engineer just couldn't get rolling—too much weight. 'I guess we would have been there yet if I hadn't solved the problem. Going back along the train I hung a lighted lantern in every one of those canary cars. The birds, thinking it was morning, flew off their perches. With the birds in the air we had enough weight off the wheels so that we could get going.'"

CENSUS SHOWS MORE DWELLING UNITS IN COUNTY

The 1950 census will show an increase in the number of dwelling units in Adams county and a decrease in the number of farms, The Gettysburg Times learned today.

While the population of the county has jumped between 1940 and 1950 from 39,435 to 44,084, the number of dwelling units has increased by 2,142, from 10,648 in 1940 to 12,890 this year.

At the same time the number of farms has declined from 3,071 ten years ago to 2,808 a decrease of 263. The increase in population as compared to the increase in the number of homes indicates that the situation in regard to home occupancy is still "tight."

Two Explanations
Decline in the number of farms was attributed to two causes—the first being the inclusion of a number of smaller farms into larger farms, which has become more and more of a trend since the end of World War II, and the development of a number of housing areas where farms once existed.

Menallen and Hamiltontown townships were affected mostly by the inclusion of smaller farms into larger ones, judging by the census figures. Menallen with 203 farms is: (Continued on Page 6)

HOLD FUNERAL SATURDAY FOR JOHN H. FRITZ

Funeral services for John H. Fritz, 81-year-old Cashtown storekeeper, who was burned to death Thursday morning when his store was destroyed by fire, will be held Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock from the Flobr's Lutheran church with the Rev. Robert C. Schiebel officiating. Interment will be made in the church cemetery.

Mr. Fritz had planned to hold a public sale of his store and equipment on Saturday and enter the National Lutheran Home for the Aged in Washington on Monday.

State police and Dr. C. G. Crist, coroner, continued today their investigation into the cause of the fire. The body was found in the debris of the completely destroyed frame store near the old-fashioned stove used to heat the structure.

General VanFleet Sees 'Ike's' Farm

The commanding general of the Second Army, Lt. Gen. James Alward Van Fleet, and Mrs. Van Fleet, Thursday had a look at an old classmate's new home near here.

The general and his wife, stopping at the Hotel Gettysburg here for lunch, talked with some local people about the "good old days" when Van Fleet and Dwight D. Eisenhower were members of the same class at West Point.

The commander of the Second Army told how the class had visited Gettysburg, toured the battlefield, and engaged in a baseball game with Gettysburg college.

The general expressed an interest in seeing General "Ike" Eisenhower's new farm home and Dr. J. Walter Coleman, superintendent of the National Park here, volunteered to show General Van Fleet the Allen Redding farm bought by Eisenhower. After visiting the farm and talking to Mr. and Mrs. Redding for a short time the general and his wife toured part of the battlefield before continuing on their trip to Fort Meade, Md.

Allies Are Driven Back 10 Miles By Massed Red Forces In Eastern Sector Of Korea

Tokyo, Dec. 29 (AP)—Massed Red manpower drove United Nations forces back up to 10 miles today in the eastern sector of the Korean warfront.

There was skirmishing all along the defense line. Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, U.S. Eighth Army commander, expressed "complete confidence in the ultimate success" of the United Nations effort in Korea.

General MacArthur said two Red regiments seized high ground northwest of Oron, 35 miles inland from the Sea of Japan coast and about 10 miles south of Parallel 38.

Enemy Active In All Sectors
Another thrust rolled Allied forces back southeast of Yongpo, 13 miles due east of Oron.

MacArthur said the Reds were active in almost all sectors across Korea's waist. He reported 5,000 to 6,000 Reds were massed west of the frozen Imjin river. Another concentration was spotted south of Yonchon, in the central sector.

Korean Reds were in the forefront of the enemy action. Behind them were hordes of Chinese. MacArthur estimated Thursday that more than 1,350,000 Reds—Chinese and North Korean—were poised in Korea and Manchuria to strike Allied forces.

22 COUNTIANS TO BE INDUCTED ARE ANNOUNCED
U.N. warplanes struck the enemy all along the rigid front and at his supply lines from Manchuria. Observation planes spotted camouflaged vehicles in the forward areas. MacArthur said the assault in the Yongpo area began lightly, with U.N. troops dispersing 100 Reds in the initial attack. Later, a regiment of Communists was thrown at the Allied troops and ground was lost.

Admit 10 Mile Loss
A briefing officer at U.S. Eighth Army headquarters said one Allied unit was thrown back 10 miles. Another battalion lost three miles.

Air observers reported mounting evidence of Chinese and North Korean forces moving up toward the battle zone.

Ridgway, Eighth Army commander, imposed light restrictions on pinpointing any units of his huge force at this time.

While the lid was screwed a little tighter on news in Korea by the Allied command, the Red radio at Pyongyang broadcast that United Nations forces had suffered losses of men and war material in the Kangwon area on December 24 and 25.

Claim 320 Casualties
"The People's forces" operating in the Kangwon province inflicted blows upon the enemy's powerful units in the area south of the 38th Parallel on December 24 and 25 with immense results," the radio said.

"According to a part of the war records, our forces inflicted about 320 casualties upon the enemy forces and captured about 110 troops in the said actions."

MacArthur quoted the enemy report in his communiqué.

JAIL MAN IN HIT-RUN CASE
U. S. Far East Air Forces and Fifth Air Force fighters and bombers kept plugging at the Communists, near the Red front. Towns harboring enemy men and supplies were blasted in North Korea.

Speedy American jets knocked down one Russian made MIG-15 and damaged two others in encounters in far northwest Korea, near Manchuria. All American planes returned safely to their bases.

Carrier Planes Active
Navy planes of Task Force 77 went back into action for the first time since the evacuation of the east coast port of Hungnam was completed on Christmas Eve. They destroyed 27 buildings occupied by Red troops and damaged 67 others along the 38th Parallel.

Marmie Corsair pilots from an escort carrier group operating off the Korean west coast reported they destroyed more than 100 buildings with bombs, napalm and rockets.

Extension Club Visits White Hill

Members of the Adams County Senior Extension club Thursday evening attended a meeting of the Cumberland County Senior Extension group at White Hill where the groups heard a talk by Arthur Krusney, superintendent of the White Hill Industrial school. He outlined the methods of rehabilitation of those confined to the school and noted that "putting faith in a boy working along the lines he likes best turns out good dependable citizens."

Cumberland County Agent M. I. Galt introduced the speaker. The two clubs made plans for a bowling match January 6 at Hanover and discussed the fall festival to be held at Newville for all of the senior extension clubs in the district.

STOCKS BACK DOWN

New York, Dec. 29 (AP)—Stock prices gradually backed down today following the market's rise yesterday to a new 20-year peak. Declines ranged to $1 a share or so with most below that figure. Trading started off with a rush. At one time for a brief period the volume of business was so large that the stock exchange's price reporting lagged. Turnover slowed somewhat later, although sales totaled up to a solid figure.

TREATED AT HOSPITAL

Philip Redding, Jr., 22, Westminster R. 2, who "walked" into a circular rip saw Thursday morning, was treated at the Warner hospital for lacerations of a thigh.

General VanFleet Sees "Ike's" Farm

The commanding general of the Second Army, Lt. Gen. James Alward Van Fleet, and Mrs. Van Fleet, Thursday had a look at an old classmate's new home here.

The general and his wife, stopping at the Hotel Gettysburg here for lunch, talked with some local people about the "good old days" when Van Fleet and Dwight D. Eisenhower were members of the same class at West Point.

The commander of the Second Army told how the class had visited Gettysburg, toured the battlefield, and engaged in a baseball game with Gettysburg college.

The general expressed an interest in seeing General "Ike" Eisenhower's new farm home and Dr. J. Walter Coleman, superintendent of the National Park here, volunteered to show General Van Fleet the Allen Redding farm bought by Eisenhower. After visiting the farm and talking to Mr. and Mrs. Redding for a short time the general and his wife toured part of the battlefield before continuing on their trip to Fort Meade, Md.

Allies Are Driven Back 10 Miles By Massed Red Forces In Eastern Sector Of Korea

Tokyo, Dec. 29 (P)—Massed Red manpower drove United Nations forces back up to 10 miles today in the eastern sector of the Korean warfront.

There was skirmishing all along the defense line.

Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, U.S. Eighth Army commander, expressed "complete confidence in the ultimate success" of the United Nations effort in Korea.

General MacArthur said two Red regiments seized high ground northwest of Oran, 35 miles inland from the Sea of Japan coast and about 10 miles south of Parallel 38.

Enemy Active In All Sectors

Another thrust rolled Allied forces back southeast of Yongpo, 13 miles due east of Oran.

MacArthur said the Reds were active in almost all sectors across Korea's waist. He reported 5,000 to 6,000 Reds were massed west of the frozen Imjin river. Another concentration was spotted south of Yonchon, in the central sector.

Korean Reds were in the forefront of the enemy action. Behind them were hordes of Chinese. MacArthur estimated Thursday that more than 1,350,000 Reds—Chinese and North Korean—were poised in Korea and Manchuria to strike Allied forces.

U.N. warplanes struck the enemy all along the front and at his supply lines from Manchuria. Observation planes spotted camouflaged vehicles in the forward areas.

MacArthur said the assault in the Yongpo area began lightly, with U.N. troops dispersing 100 Reds in the initial attack. Later, a regiment of Communists was thrown at the Allied troops and ground was lost.

Admit 10 Mile Loss

A briefing officer at U.S. Eighth Army headquarters said one Allied unit was thrown back 10 miles. Another battalion lost three miles.

Air observers reported mounting evidence of Chinese and North Korean forces moving up toward the battle zone.

Ridgway, Eighth Army commander, imposed tight restrictions on pinpointing any units of his huge force at this time.

While the lid was screwed a little tighter on news in Korea by the Allied command, the Red radio at Pyongyang broadcast that United Nations forces had suffered losses of men and war material in the Kangwon area on December 24 and 25.

Claim 320 Casualties

"The People's forces operating in the Kangwon province inflicted blows upon the enemy's powerful units in the area south of the 38th Parallel on December 24 and 25 with immense results," the radio said.

"According to a part of the war records, our forces inflicted about 320 casualties upon the enemy forces and captured about 110 troops in the said actions."

MacArthur quoted the enemy report in his communiqué.

U. S. Far East Air Forces and Fifth Air Force fighters and bombers kept plugging at the Communists near the Red front. Towns harboring enemy men and supplies were blasted in North Korea.

Speedy American jets knocked down one Russian-made MIG-15 and damaged two others in encounters in far northwest Korea, near Manchuria. All American planes returned safely to their bases.

Carrier Planes Active

Navy planes of Task Force 77 went back into action for the first time since the evacuation of the east coast port of Hungnam was completed on Christmas Eve. They destroyed 27 buildings occupied by Red troops and damaged 67 others along the 38th Parallel.

Marine Corsair pilots from an escort carrier group operating off the Korean west coast reported they destroyed more than 100 buildings with bombs, napalm and rockets.

Washington, Dec. 23 (AP) — The White House announced President Truman will recommend at an appropriate time a much broadened tax program to meet increased defense costs. Just when the new tax recommendations will go to Congress was not announced.

Joseph H. Short, press secretary, issued a statement to amplify a remark he made Tuesday that he doubted very much there would be a request for new taxes in January.

Alexandria, Va., Dec. 23 (AP) — In face of rising costs and for the first time in its 201-year history, the city of Alexandria has ordered a wholesale reduction in taxes.

Tuesday the city council passed five ordinances reducing or repealing city taxes. It also accepted a balanced municipal operating budget of $4,331,322 for 1951. This sum is $696,572 in excess of the 1950 budget.

Philadelphia, Dec. 23 (AP) — A Philadelphia orphans' court judge recently approved a bequest of $15,000 to the Smithsonian Institute in Washington to erect a statue or bust of the late Brig. Gen. William L. (Bully) Mitchell.

The bequest was a part of a $557,316 estate left by Philadelphia investment broker George H. Stephenson, one of the oldest members of the Philadelphia Stock Exchange. Stephenson died here in July, 1949.

General Mitchell, who culminated a stormy army career 25 years ago, died in 1936.

Harrisburg, Dec. 23 (AP) — Persons who have failed to pay their pledges to the Centre County hospital's money-raising campaign may face court action. John J. Love, chairman of the hospital's board of trustees, said yesterday the board has decided to take action and will petition Centre county court on February 1 to make the persons pay their pledges in full.

Hungnam Beachhead, Korea, Dec. 23 (AP) — Nearly 25,000 North Korean refugees have been removed from the Allied beachhead port of Hungnam—300 of them as special charges of the American Army. # PIAA MEMBERS HOLD ANNUAL CONFAB TODAY

Harrisburg, Dec. 29 (P)—The renewal of a ban against schools employing part-time coaches was expected to be a chief topic of discussion today at the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association.

Hundreds of school principals took time out from the annual Pennsylvania State Education Association convention here to talk schoolboy sports. Some 1,074 principals are members of the PIAA in the name of their schools.

The PIAA board of control yesterday reported a proposed amendment knocking out that requirement lost in a poll of the membership by a 429 to 126 vote. Favorable votes by two-thirds of the balloting schools was necessary for adoption.

The proposed amendment to the by-laws would have permitted competition with any non-member school whose "eligibility rules for contestants" match those of the PIAA.

The present by-law prohibits competition with schools whose "eligibility rules for both school and contestants" do not agree with those of the PIAA. This by-law eliminates scheduling of many Catholic and private schools who do not have full time teacher-coaches.

Most of them could have complied with the proposed change. Another proposed amendment prohibiting basketball practice before November 15 also failed to muster enough votes. There were 298 in favor and 253 against.

Board Action
In other action the board of control also:

1. Unanimously elected Mark Funk, Latrobe, District Seven (W.P.I.A.) chairman as its new president succeeding C. L. Walsh, Pittsburgh, who is retiring from school work.
2. Voted to submit to the membership a proposed amendment increasing all school dues 50 per cent.
3. Decided to take 60 instead of 50 per cent of the net proceeds of all regional and state championship basketball playoffs. The remainder is split between the two competing schools.
4. Raised the admission price for Class A regional and state championship basketball playoff games from $1.52 to $1.85 for adults tax included—an additional 27 cents per ticket for the PIAA after taxes. Class B and C game tickets and students' admissions remain unchanged.
5. Extended the contract of Edmund Wicht, PIAA executive director another five years to August 31, 1956, at his present $6,000 a year salary.
6. Admitted eight new members bringing the total membership to 1,074 members.

Wicht estimated the increased dues, if approved by the members, would bring an additional $4,250 above the present average $8,500 a year into the PIAA treasury. The admissions boost would bring in an extra $2,000 a year and the increase in the PIAA take of the proceeds another $1,500.

WARREN WRIGHT EXPIRES AT 75

Miami Beach, Fla., Dec. 29 (P)—Warren Wright, 75, owner of the fabulous Calumet farm thoroughbred racing stable, died at his winter home here last night after an illness of three weeks.

Wright was master of the most successful racing and breeding thoroughbred farm in the history of the American turf.

Wright and his wife, the former Miss Lucille Parker of Marysville, Ky., arrived here early in December for the winter. He was stricken three weeks ago and died at 8:45 p.m. (EST). Death was attributed to natural causes.

Mrs. Wright and their son, Warren, Jr., were with him at the end. The son arrived here two weeks ago from Lexington, Ky.

Wright, slender and quiet-spoken, had an inherent love for race horses and he bred them to win. He traveled thousands of miles to see his thoroughbreds run, but made only an occasional sentimental wager.

He began building his turf empire in 1931 when he inherited the bulk of his father's $30,000,000 estate. The father, William Monroe Wright, had founded the Calumet Baking Powder company in Chicago in 1888.

The elder Wright himself had been a successful breeder and turfman and won the Hambletonian, Kentucky futurity and other major harness events. His estate included the Calumet farm near Lexington, Ky., which the son inherited.

Warren Wright was born in Springfield, Ohio, September 25, 1875, and educated in the public schools of Chicago. He joined his father's baking powder company as an office boy in 1890.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Dec. 29 (P)—In spite of those rumors linking Bo McMillin and the Washington Redskins, story from Detroit is that Bo is more likely to go into some other business than football—with the Lions' directors pitching in to help find a spot for him. . . . Nobody would be surprised, either, if McMillin was tapped for the Minnesota job. . . . What would you do with $60,000 coming on an unexpired contract. . . . Overlooked date: December 29 is the birthday of Jess Willard, the biggest heavyweight champ of all the was a half inch taller than Primo Carnera and almost as heavy. . . . Jess was the second-oldest fighter ever to win the heavyweight title and the first to collect $100,000 for defending it. If he had come along after Jack Dempsey instead of before, he might have made a pile of dough as big as himself. . . . Tommy Thompson, the Philly Eagles quarterback, has purchased a cattle farm in Arkansas, where he can retire when he wants to pitch hay instead of passes.

IDENTIFIED!

A veteran Florida football official tells this one on himself, so it must be okay to repeat it. . . . The official made his debut in the business with a "green" crew, all decked out in spanking new officials' shirts that revealed their inexperience. . . . Naturally they were nervous working their first game. . . . And as the quartet walked onto the field, they heard a feminine fan tell her neighbor in a "whisper" that could be heard all over the field: "There comes that bunch of crooked. . . now."

MOTHER MEETS HER QUADRUPLE AMPUTEE SON

Washington, Dec. 29 (P)—There were no tears.

Pic. Robert Smith, 20, the first quadruple amputee of the Korean war, looked up from his bed in Walter Reed hospital and said "Hi Mom."

Mrs. Clara Smith, said "Hello Bob." She bent down and kissed her soldier son. He moved the remnant of his right arm in the gesture of a hug.

They smiled at each other. He asked about home and about his mother's airplane flight to Washington to see him. She admired a television set which someone had sent anonymously to his hospital room.

It was the first time they had been together since Robert left last August for the Far East.

Guest Of Legion

He was flown to Washington Wednesday with both hands gone and both legs amputated below the knees, the result of frostbite received in the fighting around Chosin reservoir Nov. 27.

Mrs. Smith flew here yesterday from her Middleburg, Pa., home.

Robert asked how his widowed mother managed to pay for the trip mother managed to pay for the trip.

Y.S. TROUNCES ALUMNI 85-37

York Springs' high flying basketball team racked up its seventh victory in eight starts Thursday evening by walloping the Alumni 85-37. The game was originally listed for tonight.

The point total set a new record for the York Springs high lads. Captain Glenn Guise pumped an even dozen goals through the hoops to spark the varsity.

At half time the high school held a commanding 34-12 margin.

Next Tuesday York Springs will be host to the Stewartstown high boys' and girls' teams.

Harrisburg, Dec. 29 (P)—The General State authority today called for bids on Jan. 24 for construction of laboratory work rooms and greenhouses for agricultural research at the Pennsylvania State college.

At the same time, the authority said it has received only one bid—that on the electrical work—on a project calling for completion of the fourth floor of the main engineering building at the college.

Who would look after the house while she was away? How would she pay for her stay in Washington?

The answers came from Erie Cooke, Jr., national commander of the American Legion. The legion chartered the plane and paid Mrs. Smith's expenses. Neighbors were caring for the house. Robert will receive a $360 monthly pension when he leaves the hospital. And Pennsylvania legionnaires are raising a fund for him.

"Good To Be Back"

Lt. Gregory Zann, an attending physician, said that a temporary claw to be attached to Robert's arm will help him do simple things like holding a cigarette or scratching a itch. Later he will get artificial hands and legs. But it will be months before he can venture out on his own.

Robert said: "They tell me I'll be able to walk and that I'll get hands almost as good as my own but I'm wondering if I'll be able to use them. I guess if others have learned I will too. "Anyhow, it's sure good to be back."

Labor To Fight For Higher Jobless Pay

Harrisburg, Dec. 29 (P)—Organized labor in Pennsylvania girded today for a fight in the 1951 legislature for a flat $10 a week increase in maximum jobless pay benefits.

Both the AFL-Pennsylvania Federation of Labor and the Pennsylvania CIO council served notice they will strive for this goal.

They will also seek similar increases in maximum weekly amounts of workmen's compensation and occupational disease benefits, and will ask that the present minimum level of $9 a week for these benefits be jumped to $20.

The state CIO sought a similar schedule of compensation increases in the 1949 legislature, but the AFL asked for a maximum boost in weekly benefits to $32. The legislature countered, however, by raising the maximum from $20 to $25 a week.

URGES HELP FOR "UNDERGROUND"

Washington, Dec. 29 (P)—Senator Wiley (R-Wis.) urged today that the United States provide arms, sabotage materials, money and encouragement to underground groups inside Russia and Communist satellite countries.

Wiley, second ranking Republican on the Senate Foreign Relations committee, said in a statement that Russian and Communist leaders have been trying for many years to "foment revolutions within the western nations." Now, he added, America and other nations should give the Communists "a taste of their own vile medicine."

"All we need to stir up plenty of trouble in Russia, China and elsewhere is some daring leadership," Wiley said. "A counter-revolutionary program against Communism would not cost a drop in the bucket compared with the billions we now spend."

He told a reporter later that his proposals would require no additional legislation or appropriations by Congress. The Wisconsin senator proposed that America set up a worldwide revolutionary movement against Communism patterned upon "the Cominform—the Communist international."

Declaring "there is scarcely a family in Russia that hasn't had a member or relative liquidated or forced into slave labor," Wiley said both that country and Communist China would be fertile fields for a "com-mando-type program of psychological and revolutionary penetration."

CUT DOWN LOWNS

Washington, Dec. 29 (P)—The government cut down sharply today on money available for private loans and forged strong new links for harnessing the national economy more firmly to the defense drive. A federal reserve board order to its 6,885 member banks called for freezing $2,000,000,000 out of the loan market.

TO DECIDE ON ACADEMY

Washington, Dec. 29 (P)—Top air force officials are expected to confer with congressional leaders next month on the fate of the air force academy project. Activity appears to have been stopped since the House Armed Services committee said some weeks ago it would not act on legislation to authorize construction of an academy.

PIAA MEMBERS HOLD ANNUAL CONFAB TODAY

Harrisburg, Dec. 29 (AP)—The renewal of a ban against schools employing part-time coaches was expected to be a chief topic of discussion today at the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association.

Hundreds of school principals took time out from the annual Pennsylvania State Education Association convention here to talk schoolboy sports. Some 1,074 principals are members of the PIAA in the name of their schools.

The PIAA board of control yesterday reported a proposed amendment knocking out that requirement lost in a poll of the membership by a 429 to 126 vote. Favorable votes by two-thirds of the balloting schools was necessary for adoption.

The proposed amendment to the by-laws would have permitted competition with any non-member school whose "eligibility rules for contestants" match those of the PIAA.

The present by-law prohibits competition with schools whose "eligibility rules for both school and contestants" do not agree with those of the PIAA. This by-law eliminates scheduling of many Catholic and private schools who do not have full time teacher-coaches.

Most of them could have complied with the proposed change.

Another proposed amendment prohibiting basketball practice before November 15 also failed to muster enough votes. There were 298 in favor and 253 against.

Board Action
In other action the board of control also:

1. Unanimously elected Mark Punk, Latrobe, District Seven (WPIAL) chairman as its new president succeeding C. L. Walsh, Pittsburgh, who is retiring from school work.

2. Voted to submit to the membership a proposed amendment increasing all school dues 50 per cent.

3. Decided to take 60 instead of 50 per cent of the net proceeds at all regional and state championship basketball playoffs. The remainder is split between the two competing schools.

4. Raised the admission price for Class A regional and state championship basketball playoff games from $1.52 to $1.85 for adults tax included—an additional 27 cents per ticket for the PIAA after taxes. Class B and C game tickets and students' admissions remain unchanged.

5. Extended the contract of Edmund Wicht, PIAA executive director another five years to August 31, 1956, at his present $6,000 a year salary.

6. Admitted eight new members bringing the total membership to 1,074 members.

Wicht estimated the increased dues, if approved by the members, would bring an additional $4,250 above the present average $8,500 a year into the PIAA treasury. The admissions boost would bring in an extra $2,000 a year and the increase in the PIAA take of the proceeds another $1,500.

WARREN WRIGHT EXPIRES AT 75

Miami Beach, Fla., Dec. 29 (AP)—Warren Wright, 75, owner of the fabulous Calumet farm thoroughbred racing stable, died at his winter home here last night after an illness of three weeks.

Wright was master of the most successful racing and breeding thoroughbred farm in the history of the American turf.

Wright and his wife, the former Miss Lucille Parker of Marysville, Ky., arrived here early in December for the winter. He was stricken three weeks ago and died at 8:45 p.m. (EST). Death was attributed to natural causes.

Mrs. Wright and their son, Warren, Jr., were with him at the end. The son arrived here two weeks ago from Lexington, Ky.

Wright, slender and quiet-spoken, had an inherent love for race horses and he bred them to win. He traveled thousands of miles to see his thoroughbreds run, but made only an occasional sentimental wager.

He began building his turf empire in 1921 when he inherited the bulk of his father's $30,000,000 estate. The father, William Monroe Wright, had founded the Calumet Baking Powder company in Chicago in 1888.

The elder Wright himself had been a successful breeder and turfman and won the Hambletonian, Kentucky futurity and other major harness events. His estate included the Calumet farm near Lexington, Ky., which the son inherited.

Warren Wright was born in Springfield, Ohio, September 25, 1875, and educated in the public schools of Chicago. He joined his father's baking powder company as an office boy in 1890.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Dec. 29 (AP)—In spite of those rumors linking Bo McMillin and the Washington Redskins, story from Detroit is that Bo is more likely to go into some other business than football—with the Lions' directors pitching in to help find a spot for him. . . . Nobody would be surprised, either, if McMillin was tapped for the Minnesota job. . . . What would you do with $60,000 coming on an unexpired contract. . . . Overlooked date: December 29 is the birthday of Jess Willard, the biggest heavyweight champ of all (he was a half inch taller than Primo Carnera and almost as heavy). . . . Jess was the second-oldest fighter ever to win the heavyweight title and the first to collect $100,000 for defending it. If he had come along after Jack Dempsey instead of before, he might have made a pile of dough as big as himself. . . . Tommy Thompson, the Philly Eagles quarterback, has purchased a cattle farm in Arkansas, where he can retire when he wants to pitch hay instead of passes.

IDENTIFIED!

A veteran Florida football official tells this one on himself, so it must be okay to repeat it. . . . The official made his debut in the business with a "green" crew, all decked out in spanking new officials' shirts that revealed their inexperience. . . . Naturally they were nervous working their first game. . . . And as the quartet walked onto the field, they heard a feminine fan tell her neighbor in a "whisper" that could be heard all over the field: "There comes that bunch of crooked . . . now."

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEWS ADAMS
DOG TO ALL

There is a dog in my neighborhood, to whom he belongs I know not. He merely wanders all about, running to anyone who will give him a cheerful call—men, women, children. His friendly wag of tail seems to be his habitual answer to the call of companionship. He seems to have no other purpose in life but to be friendly with all. He is dog to all!

This little dog has made me think of a devoted woman who lived next to my home in a midwestern town, when I was a boy. She was here, there, and everywhere, forever doing kind things to make people happy. She was entirely selfless. She thanked people for telling her of the opportunity to serve someone. Her face wore a perpetual smile of peace and beauty. She was woman to all.

Most of us know such dogs as the one I mention, and such human beings as the woman whose memory is treasured by me. What a joy it is to meet such examples! They take us out of ourselves, and help us to distribute the substance of ourselves into the stream of human service. Life doesn't seem quite so dark when we contact such examples of cheer and hopefulness.

I have just been reading a remarkable book—"Boswell's London Journal." This diary by the biographer of Dr. Johnson is now published for the first time, after having slept for some hundred and fifty years! It was known that he kept a diary but no one knew where it was. He told Dr. Johnson about it one day, and the great man replied: "Sir, there is nothing too little for so little a creature as man. It is by studying little things that we attain the great knowledge of having as little misery and as much happiness as possible."

So it is the little things—the little kindnesses and the thoughtfulnesses that exude from our daily actions—that give flavor and beauty to life itself. The example of that little dog—a friend to all—and those friends of ours who radiate light, cheer, and hope, may appear as small in a big world of trouble and problems, but God's eye, I am sure, is centered upon such as they.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Someone."

Mr. Kress is employed by a producing company as a play producer.

Mr. Irvin is a bookkeeper and is employed in Waynesboro, where the couple will reside.

Auker-Weikert: Miss Sarah Elizabeth Auker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Auker, New Oxford, and Willis L. Weikert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Weikert, East Middle street, were married at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents. The ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. George E. Sheffer, pastor of the New Oxford Lutheran church, in the presence of the immediate families. Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Auker were the attendants.

The newlyweds will reside in New Oxford, where Mr. Weikert operates a gasoline service station, and Mrs. Weikert teaches in the grade schools.

Xmas Mailing Reaches Peak Record: Christmas mailing reached a peak for the current season and established an all-time record at the Gettysburg postoffice on Monday, December 23.

Postmaster Williams estimated that 15,000 pieces of first class mail were handled Monday morning by the augmented force.

Christmas Is Observed in Usual Manner: Gettysburgians and Adams countians observed Christmas in their time-honored customary manner.

All churches were well filled for the various Christmas services that began at midnight for some and at dawn for others.

Carol singers rode about town Christmas eve and early Christmas morning serenading many with Christmas carols.

Gayly lighted exteriors of many homes and the snowstorm added color and spirit to the occasion.

2400 Treated by Firemen: The Gettysburg fire company played Santa Claus to 2400 children and grown-ups over Christmas.

At the annual treat for children of Gettysburg and vicinity at the fire engine house Tuesday evening, 1,450 boxes of candy and a like number of oranges were distributed.

CHANGE SOCIAL SECURITY LAW ON JANUARY 1

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Dec. 29 (AP)—These two big changes come January 1 under the new social security law: (1) A great many people will pay a larger social security tax, and (2) about 10,000,000 people become eligible for social security coverage for the first time.

Social security coverage means, if you work long enough in a job covered by the law, a pension for yourself and wife when you retire after 65 or benefits for your family if you die.

No. 1—Now the tax is three per cent on the first $3,000 dollars earned by a person in a covered job, with the employee and employer each paying 1½ per cent. There is no tax on what is earned above $3,000.

On January 1, while the tax remains at three per cent, it will apply on the first $3,600 earned. This will show what that means:

In 1950 Jones earned $5,000. Since the tax was three per cent on only the first $3,000, Jones and his boss each paid a tax of $45 (1½ per cent each) or a total of $90. Now each will pay 1½ per cent on Jones' first $3,600, which will mean $54 each or a total of $108.

New Groups Included
No. 2—Here are the new groups to whom social security coverage has been opened:

A—Self employed people (but not all self employed). The following self employed are still excluded from coverage: Self employed farmers or farm owners; doctors; lawyers; dentists; optometrists; osteopaths; veterinarians; chiropractors; Christian Science practitioners; professional engineers; naturopaths; architects; full time practicing public accountants; and undertakers.

(B)—Domestic workers. For example: A cook, maid, family chauffeur, butler, nursemaid, washerwoman. But no domestic worker is covered unless he or she works for the same person at least some part of 24 days out of a three month period and earns at least $50 in that period.

(C)—Agricultural workers. This means—provided they're regularly employed on a farm—outside workers like farm hands and inside workers like cooks or maids in the farmer's house; and it also includes those who prepare, process or deliver farm products or livestock to market. No one in this group is covered by the law unless he has worked at least five months for the same employer. If he switched employers, he has to work for the second one at least five months before being covered again.

Salesmen and Others
(D)—People in this group: Full time life insurance salesmen; traveling or city salesmen taking orders from business places for their employers (but not door-to-door salesmen); agent drivers and commissioned drivers distributing meat, bakery, fruit or vegetable products and beverages (but not milk); drivers in laundry or day cleaning services; and people who work at home, earn at least $50 in a three month period, and do their work on materials given them by their employer with specification from him for doing the job.

(E)—American firms' workers employed abroad.

(F)—Federal employees not already covered by a government pension system for federal employees.

(G)—Workers in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. They've never been under social security before.

(H)—Transit system employees of a state or local government. For example, a bus line owned by a city. This one is so full of "ifs" there is not enough room here for explanation. If you're in this group, check with your nearest social security office for full information.

Clergy Not Covered
(I)—Employees of non-profit organizations—such as religious, educational, charitable, scientific, or literary organizations (for example, the Red Cross)—can come under social security but only if—

Two-thirds of the employees vote for doing so and then only if the organization also agrees, since once its employees come under social security that organization must pay half their tax. People who are members—not employees—of a religious organization are still excluded from coverage. Example: Priests, nuns, ministers.

(J)—State and local government employees not already covered by a pension system of that state or local government. But these people can not come under social security unless the state or local government wants them to, since it will have to pay part of the tax.

The people in all eight groups from A to H must come under social security. The law compels it. As noted, in the last two (I and J) it's optional for the employees or employers.

Most Of Available Pa. Oil Is Gone

Titusville, Pa., Dec. 29 (AP)—There's twice as much oil in the ground in Pennsylvania as has been brought to the surface in the 91 years the industry has been operating.

But, explains William S. Lytle, of Butler, in a 256-page bulletin just issued by the State Department of Internal Affairs, the state's recoverable oil is nearly five-sevenths gone.

Lytle estimates there still is 2,700,000,000 barrels of oil in the ground in the state. But it appears doubtful if more than 449,465,000 barrels will ever be produced.

Since January 1, 1947, Pennsylvania has pumped 52,000,000 barrels from its wells. If this rate of production continues, all the oil wells in the state will be dry about 1975.

Potomac Edison To Erect Plant

Frederick, Md., Dec. 29 (AP)—The Potomac Edison company will build a $12,750,000 generating plant at the next two years.

Smith said the company expects to have the Albright plant in operation by June, 1952, and that it is being constructed in response to President Truman's plea for more electric power in the area.

The 11-month report of Potomac Edison building for the year included three transmission lines totaling $555,000. These extend from Cumberland, Md., to Junction, W. Va.; Double Tollage, Va., to Winchester, Va., and Mount Airy, Md., to Damascus, Md. Improvements costing $100,000 were also made at the Cumberland substation.

Smith said 5,751 customers were added during the period, boosting the total to 130,858. He said the company's services are now within reach of 95 per cent of the farms in the Potomac Edison operating area.

Philadelphia, Dec. 29 (AP)—The Army Signal Corps will occupy the former Penn Athletic club as an office building.

That decision was announced yesterday by Secretary of the Army Frank Pace, Jr., who said the army will exercise an option on the property which during the war was headquarters for the Security and Exchange commission.

At the conclusion of the Christmas program Tuesday night in the Parish hall, Rev. Philip Bower, pastor, and Luther and Warren Kugler, sextons of the Lutheran church, were each presented by the Sunday school with an envelope containing a cash Christmas gift. In making the presentation Sunday School Superintendent Carroll E. Frock, Jr., said it was a token of appreciation for "faithful and commendable service."

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Matthews visited during the holidays with Mrs. Matthews, parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence G. Frailley.

Peter Burket spent Christmas with his sister, Mrs. Kate Reuter, and family in Baltimore.

The Emmitsburg Manufacturing company treated 50 employees and guests to a full course turkey dinner at the Green Parrot tea shop last Thursday, December 21. Gifts were presented to all present by the firm.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Is Speaker at Annual Dinner: Urging members of the Masonic order to live as "militant Christians," Mayor Lynn G. Adams, superintendent of the Pennsylvania state police, predicted the end of fraternal orders if the democratic form of American government is overthrown and a dictatorship is established.

S. Lester Scott, pastmaster of the lodge, presided at the St. John's night banquet at the Blue Parrot tea room held by Good Samaritan lodge, 165 Masons attended the affair.

Group singing was led by A. E. Hutchison, Fred G. Pfeiffer, the new worshipful master of Good Samaritan lodge, was introduced.

Colgan-Kress Nuptials: Miss Frances M. Colgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Colgan, McSherrystown, and Marvin C. Kress, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Kress, Hanover, were married Thursday morning at 8 o'clock in the rectory of St. Mary's Catholic church, McSherrystown, by the Rev. Joseph N. Whalen, rector.

Xmas Mailing Reaches Peak Record: Christmas mailing reached a peak for the current season and established an all-time record at the Gettysburg postoffice on Monday, December 23.

Postmaster Williams estimated that 15,000 pieces of first class mail were handled Monday morning by the augmented force.

Christmas Is Observed in Usual Manner: Gettysburgians and Adams countyans observed Christmas in their time-honored customary manner.

All churches were well filled for the various Christmas services that began at midnight for some and at dawn for others.

Carol singers rode about town Christmas eve and early Christmas morning serenading many with Christmas carols.

Gaily lighted exteriors of many homes and the snowstorm added color and spirit to the occasion.

2400 Treated by Firemen: The Gettysburg fire company played Santa Claus to 2,400 children and grown-ups over Christmas.

DOG TO ALL

There is a dog in my neighborhood, to whom he belongs I know not. He merely wanders all about, running to anyone who will give him a cheerful call—men, women, children. His friendly wag of tail seems to be his habitual answer to the call of companionship. He seems to have no other purpose in life but to be friendly with all. He is dog to all!

This little dog has made me think of a devoted woman who lived next to my home in a midwestern town, when I was a boy. She was there, there, and everywhere, forever doing kind things to make people happy. She was entirely selfless. She thanked people for telling her of the opportunity to serve someone. Her face wore a perpetual smile of peace and beauty. She was woman to all.

Most of us know such dogs as the one I mention, and such human beings as the woman whose memory is treasured by me. What a joy it is to meet such examples! They take us out of ourselves, and help us to distribute the substance of ourselves into the stream of human service. Life doesn't seem quite so dark when we contact such examples of cheer and hopefulness.

I have just been reading a remarkable book—"Boswell's London Journal." This diary by the biographer of Dr. Johnson is now published for the first time, after having slept for some hundred and fifty years! It was known that he kept a diary but no one knew where it was. He told Dr. Johnson about it one day, and the great man replied: "Sir, there is nothing too little for so little a creature as man. It is by studying little things that we attain the great knowledge of having as little misery and as much happiness as possible."

So it is the little things—the little kindnesses and the thoughtfulness that exude from our daily actions—that give flavor and beauty to life itself. The example of that little dog—a friend to all—and those friends of ours who radiate light, cheer, and hope, may appear as small in a big world of trouble and problems, but God's eye, I am sure, is centered upon such as they.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Someone."

THE DYING YEAR

The year has grown old. It is wrinkled and gray. "Not much longer to live!" as the doctors would say. "Little more can be done! At the stroke of the bell we must all be prepared for the final farewell!"

The old year is dying. Not long can it last.

It must soon leave the present to join with the past. The end is approaching. One breath or two more. Then 'twill join all the years that have gone on before.

It will not be forgotten. Unto the world's end. Its best and its worst will be sought for and penned. In our triumphs and failures the year will live on. Remembered and talked of long after we're gone.

CHANGE SOCIAL SECURITY LAW ON JANUARY 1

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Dec. 29 (AP)—These two big changes come January 1 under the new social security law: (1) A great many people will pay a larger social security tax, and (2) about 10,000,000 people become eligible for social security coverage for the first time.

Social security coverage means, if you work long enough in a job covered by the law, a pension for yourself and wife when you retire after 65 or benefits for your family if you die.

No. 1—Now the tax is three per cent on the first $3,000 dollars earned by a person in a covered job, with the employee and employer each paying 1½ per cent. There is no tax on what is earned above $3,000.

On January 1, while the tax remains at three per cent, it will apply on the first $3,000 earned. This will show what that means: In 1950 Jones earned $5,000. Since the tax was three per cent on only the first $3,000, Jones and his boss each paid a tax of $45 (1½ per cent each) or a total of $90. Now each will pay 1½ per cent on Jones' first $3,000, which will mean $54 each or a total of $108.

New Groups Included: No. 2—Here are the new groups to whom social security coverage has been opened:

A—Self employed people (but not all self employed). The following self employed are still excluded from coverage: Self employed farmers or farm owners; doctors; lawyers; dentists; optometrists; osteopaths; veterinarians; chiropractors; Christian Science practitioners; professional engineers; naturopaths; architects; full time practicing public accountants; and undertakers.

(B)—Domestic workers. For example: A cook, maid, family chauffeur, butler, nursemaid, washerwoman. But no domestic worker is covered unless he or she works for the same person at least some part of 24 days out of a three month period and earns at least $50 in that period.

(C)—Agricultural workers. This means—provided they're regularly employed on a farm—outside workers like farm hands and inside workers like cooks or maids in the farmer's house; and it also includes those who prepare, process or deliver farm products or livestock to market. No one in this group is covered by the law unless he has worked at least five months for the same employer. If he switched employers, he has to work for the second one at least five months before being covered again.

Salesmen And Others: (D)—People in this group. Full time life insurance salesmen; traveling or city salesmen taking orders from business places for their employers (but not door-to-door salesmen); agent drivers and commissioned drivers distributing meat, bakery, fruit or vegetable products and beverages (but not milk); drivers in laundry or day cleaning services; and people who work at home, earn at least $80 in a three month period, and do their work on materials given them by their employer with specification from him for doing the job.

(E)—American firms' workers employed abroad.

(F)—Federal employees not already covered by a government pension system for federal employees.

(G)—Workers in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. They've never been under social security before.

(H)—Transit system employees of a state or local government. For example, a bus line owned by a city. This one is so full of "ifs" there is not enough room here for explanation. If you're in this group, check with your nearest social security office for full information.

Clergy Not Covered

(I)—Employees of non-profit organizations—such as religious, educational, charitable, scientific, or

Most Of Available Pa. Oil Is Gone

Titusville, Pa., Dec. 29 (AP)—There's twice as much oil in the ground in Pennsylvania as has been brought to the surface in the 91 years the industry has been operating. But, explains William S. Lytle, of Butler, in a 256-page bulletin just issued by the State Department of Internal Affairs, the state's recoverable oil is nearly five-sevenths gone.

Lytle estimates there still is 2,700,000,000 barrels of oil in the ground in the state. But it appears doubtful if more than 449,465,000 barrels will ever be produced.

Since January 1, 1947, Pennsylvania has pumped 52,000,000 barrels from its wells. If this rate of production continues, all the oil wells in the state will be dry about 1975.

This trio is a good example of the much talked about mix-match ensemble, and a quick and easy way to add to your wardrobe! Vary the skirt with the side button waist versions . . . presto, two smart outfits (All in one pattern.)

No. 2343 is cut in sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18, 20. Size 16, skirt, waist, 28½ yds 34-in.; high neck waist, 1 yd 54-in.

Literary organizations (for example, the Red Cross)—can come under social security but only if—

Two-thirds of the employees vote for doing so and then only if the organization also agrees, since once its employees come under social security that organization must pay half their tax. People who are members—not employees—of a religious organization are still excluded from coverage. Example: Priests, nuns, ministers.

(J)—State and local government employees not already covered by a pension system of that state or local government. But these people can come under social security unless the state or local government wants them to, since it will have to pay part of the tax.

The people in all eight groups from A to H must come under social security. The law compels it. As noted, in the last two (I and J) it is optional for the employees or employers.

Potomac Edison To Erect Plant

Frederick, Md., Dec. 29 (AP)—The Potomac Edison company will build a $12,750,000 generating plant at the next two years.

The 11-month report of Potomac Edison building for the year included three transmission lines totaling $555,000. These extend from Cumberland, Md., to Junction, W. Va.; Double Tollage, Va., to Winchester, Va., and Mount Airy, Md., to Damascus, Md. Improvements costing $100,000 were also made at the Cumberland substation.

Smith said 5,751 customers were added during the period, boosting the total to 130,858. He said the company's services are now within reach of 95 per cent of the farms in the Potomac Edison operating area.

Philadelphia, Dec. 29 (AP)—The Army Signal Corps will occupy the former Penn Athletic club as an office building.

That decision was announced yesterday by Secretary of the Army Frank Pace, Jr., who said the army will exercise an option on the property which during the war was headquarters for the Security and Exchange commission.

Albright, W. Va., President R. Paul Smith announced. The plant represents over half of an estimated $24,000,000 capital expenditure program outlined for the company during the next two years.

Smith said the company expects to have the Albright plant in operation by June, 1952, and that it is being constructed in response to President Truman's plea for more electric power in the area.

PSEA INSTALLS SULLIVAN MAN AS PRESIDENT

Harrisburg, Dec. 29 (AP)—A speech by Governor-elect John S. Pine and installation of a new president highlighted today's closing session of the annual Pennsylvania State Education association convention.

Installed as new president of the association was John M. Lumley, of Dushore, Sullivan county superintendent of schools.

According to voting statistics posted last night, Lumley defeated two other contenders for the presidency. The unsuccessful nominees were Robert E. Dawson, vice-principal of West Scranton high school and Paul S. Christman, Schuylkill Haven schools supervising principal.

The balloting results, posted on the association's convention bulletin board showed Lumley receiving 395 votes to 110 for Christman and 85 for Dawson.

For Aid To Europe
Gov. James H. Duff told the association last night that western Europe is one of America's "first lines of defense against Communism."

"Abandoning western Europe now," Duff added, "would be going back on the background of law ethics, morals and religion which has been the very cornerstone of America."

In endorsing military aid for western Europe, Duff took a different view than former President Herbert Hoover, who recently advocated a military withdrawal to the shores of this country.

Senator-elect Duff told the convention "we are the leaders in the world today because of our educational system. Our present task in the world involves world enlightenment."

Civilization Challenged
"We are in a situation today," he added, "where the whole foundation that made our civilization everything it is, is being challenged. Unfortunately, we have failed to be aware of the forces of darkness. And we have allowed our military power to diminish at a time when our responsibilities were increasing."

Duff urged a strong military force in Western Europe and said "unless we survive together we probably will not survive at all."

"We are confronted by the greatest military power in the history of civilization and we have the responsibility of carrying the torch of freedom when it is going out," Duff told the convention delegates.

"But," he added, "The task is not beyond our abilities. We are equal to the challenge."

CENSUS SHOWS

1940 now has 159 listed. Hamilton-ban with 175 farms in 1940 now has 102. In Cumberland township the number of farms dropped from 179 to 150, but in that township housing developments seem mostly to have replaced the former farms. Butler township dropped from 204 farms ten years ago to 163 now and Franklin township's farm numbers dropped from 222 to 203.

Gettysburg's number of dwelling units increased along with its population. The town jumped from 5,916 to 7,042 residents and the number of dwelling units increased from 1,673 in 1940 to 2,064.

McSherrystown Second

The trend toward construction of larger numbers of homes in Cumberland township, surrounding Gettysburg, is shown by the increase in dwelling units in that township. While the township's population increased from 1,787 to 1,990 over the 10-year period, despite a loss of some of its population to Gettysburg by annexation, the number of dwelling units jumped from 431 to 554.

Gettysburg's population and number of dwelling units is listed also by wards. The First ward had 2,724 residents, with 669 dwelling units; the Second ward has 2,313 residents and 590 dwelling units and the Third ward has 2,006 population with 605 dwelling units.

McSherrystown has apparently the greatest increase in number of houses and population of any community in the county. The preliminary figures show a population increase from 2,128 in 1940 to 3,523 now, making it the second largest town in the county and pushing it ahead of Littlestown. The number of homes today is listed as 852 as compared to 485 10 years ago.

Bendersville Lower
Littlestown's population increased from 2,463 to 2,634 and the number of dwelling units from 734 to 825.

New Oxford's population jumped from 1,194 to 1,365 and the number of homes went up from 351 to 403. Biglerville increased in population from 723 to 876 and the number of dwelling units from 211 to 278.

Other changes included: Arendts-ville, population increased from 381 to 408, number of dwelling units dropped from 135 to 132; Abbotstown population increased from 441 to 537, dwelling units from 133 to 171; Bendersville dropped in population from 414 to 394 and dwelling units from 137 to 133; East Berlin increased in population from 792 to 917 and dwelling units increased from 243 to 331; Fairfield increased in population from 431 to 450 and dwelling units from 126 to 141. York Springs population is up from 357 to 407 and dwelling units from 119 to 154.

Huge Electronic Brain Handles Spectacular Astronomical Job

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE (Associated Press Science Editor)
Haverford, Pa., Dec. 29 (AP)—History's most spectacular astronomy calculation, done by an electronic brain the size of a small house, was reported to the American Astronomical society today.

The machine discovered and corrected errors in movements of the great planets, and showed their precise motions, something astronomers have been trying to do for more than a thousand years.

The machine calculated the exact orbits of Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune and Pluto. In four weeks it showed exactly where they have been moving in their orbits around the sun ever since 1653 and where they will be until the year 2060. Some of these planets are or will be within the basis of the machine age.

The electronic brain did in four weeks the calculations which a mathematician would have done in a thousand years by hand, and in eighty years by using ordinary desk calculating machines.

The work was reported by Dr. W. J. Eckert, director of Pure Science, International Business Machine corporation, Dr. Dirk Brouwer, director of Yale observatory and Gerald Clemence, director of the be as much as ten thousand miles from the places where the best astronomy has placed them.

Practical Uses

The new results are of practical use in navigation, predicting weather and tides, and in a better understanding of the laws of motion. Nautical Almanac office of the U. S. Naval observatory. The work was financed by the office of Naval research. The almanac will print 300 pages of the new planetary tables, for use of navigators, weathermen and other scientists.

The 300 pages are part of 30,000 pages of figures which the machine turned out. In making the computations it kept in its mechanical memory nearly 1,000,000 digits, and did 12,000,000 computations. The thousands of results were each carried out to 15 decimal places.

20 Digits On

The machine occupies much of the ground floor of the International Business Machines World Headquarters building in New York.

It made one error, 20 digits wrong in a computation about the planet Pluto. But this error will not affect more than the last six decimal places in the next hundred years. The tables are printed with only nine places, which is more than scientists ever use. And which will still be correct for a hundred years.

In the computations Mars, Earth, Venus and Mercury were omitted, because the others contain 99.44 per cent of the mass of all the planets. This great mass, and the way its gravitational pull acts, account for virtually all the motions of the planets. The electronic brain's figures even show how the gravitational pull of the five planets at times slightly slows the earth's rotation.

The new tables show no evidence of a missing planet, something astronomers have been seeking for a century. This hunt was prompted by unexpected motions of planets, which the calculator now has cleared up.

New York, Dec. 29 (AP) — Author John Steinbeck and Elaine Anderson Scott were married yesterday. She was divorced last week from actor Zachary Scott. It was Steinbeck's third marriage. The private ceremony was at the home of Steinbeck's publisher, Harold K. Guinzburg.

Fable of the GULLIBLE GULL

In our friendly neighboring state great flocks of seagulls are starving amid plenty. Fishing is still good, but the gulls don't know how to fish. For generations they have depended on the shrimp fleet to toss them scraps from the nets. Now the fleet has moved to another fishing ground.

The shrimpers had created a Welfare State for the seagulls. The big birds never bothered to learn how to fish for themselves and they never taught their children to fish. Instead they led their little ones to the shrimp nets.

Now, the seagulls, the fine free birds that almost symbolize liberty itself, are starving to death because they gave in to the "something for nothing" lure! They sacrificed their independence for a hand-out.

A lot of people are like that, too. They see nothing wrong in picking delectable scraps from the tax nets of the U.S. Government's "shrimp fleet." But what will happen when the government runs out of goods? What about our children of generations to come?

Let's not be gullible gulls. We Americans must preserve our talents of self-sufficiency, our genius for creating things for ourselves, our sense of thrift and our true love of independence.

Sunday School Lesson

By

Rev. Dr. Howard R. and Margaret C. Gold

GROWING THROUGH FELLOWSHIP WITH CHRIST

John 15:1-5; Philipians 3:8-16

Memory selection: One thing I do, forgetting what lies behind and straining forward to what lies ahead, I press on toward the goal for the prize of the upward call of God in Christ Jesus.—Phil. 3:13-14 Our lesson is a part of that in-imate talk Jesus had with his disciples when the end of his human life was near. In this respect it seems appropriate at the close of the year. He spoke many words of comfort and helpfulness, but the particular thought of this portion is for the future; how his followers might continue to grow in faith, and develop the graces of character which He exemplified. Master teacher that He was Jesus employed an allegory by which his hearers easily understood the truths He meant to convey—the vine and the branches. Every Palestinian knew how necessary it was for vine and branches to stay together. His hearers would at once see how essential it is for a Christian to remain in closest fellowship with Christ, "For apart from me you can do nothing."

Vinedressing

It is significant that at the very beginning of his admonition Jesus speaks of pruning; that is, cutting away the growth on the vine that is worthless. The purpose, of course, is that the branches might bring a better harvest. The "branches" are persons, and the thought is that a true Christian will eliminate from his life the things that have no essential relation to Christ. This may include things that are not actually wrong, but neither do they aid in building individual character, nor the Kingdom Jesus came to establish. Anyone who keeps close to Christ will have no regrets for giving up the fruitless things of life. The present day offers so many thoughts and activities to choose from, that only those who yield to God's vinedressing will order their lives wisely.

To Illustrate

As an example of one man who yielded to pruning we have the Apostle Paul. Here was a young man brilliant in mind, and ambitious. He was well educated and associated with the most learned men of his day. It may be assumed that he was headed toward the supreme court of Judaism. His family had means and social standing. But after he had met Christ and found Him to be the Vine from whom a superior power flowed, he became a willing branch. Faith, and faith alone, bound him to Christ. He makes a statement in writing to the Philipians: "For His sake I have suffered the loss of all things, and count them a refuse, in order that I may gain Christ and be found in Him." So this young Hebrew whose future appeared to be full of promise as the world

HAVE YOU THE COMBINATION?

One by one, over the centuries, men and women have been opening the door to life's richest treasure.

This New Year thousands more will learn the combination that unlocks our God-given destiny.

The joy of purposeful living, the confidence of courageous believing, the power of divine help, belong to every man who can rightly turn the dial of life to its appointed goal.

And the combination has been ours through twenty centuries, ever since the day of Jesus Christ!

Turn first to faith—the hunger of the heart for spiritual truth. Then to love—the capacity for unselfish devotion to one another. Then to God—the Source of All that is eternally real.

The Church helps us master the combination. Its worship and instruction help us to turn the course of our lives.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

which He exemplified. Master teacher that He was Jesus employed an allegory by which his hearers easily understood the truths He meant to convey — the vine and the branches. Every Palestinian knew how necessary it was for vine and branches to stay together. His hearers would at once see how essential it is for a Christian to remain in closest fellowship with Christ, "For apart from me you can do nothing."

Vinedressing

It is significant that at the very beginning of his admonition Jesus speaks of pruning; that is, cutting away the growth on the vine that is worthless. The purpose, of course, is that the branches might bring a better harvest. The "branches" are persons, and the thought is that a true Christian will eliminate from his life the things that have no essential relation to Christ. This may include things that are not actually wrong, but neither do they aid in building individual character, nor the Kingdom Jesus came to establish. Anyone who keeps close to Christ will have no regrets for giving up the fruitless things of life. The present day offers so many thoughts and activities to choose from, that only those who yield to God's vinedressing will order their lives wisely.

To Illustrate

As an example of one man who yielded to pruning we have the Apostle Paul. Here was a young man brilliant in mind, and ambitious. He was well educated and associated with the most learned men of his day. It may be assumed that he was headed toward the supreme court of Judaism. His family had means and social standing. But after he had met Christ and found Him to be the Vine from whom a superior power flowed, he became a willing branch. Faith, and faith alone, bound him to Christ. He makes a statement in writing to the Philippians: "For His sake I have suffered the loss of all things, and count them a refuse, in order that I may gain Christ and be found in Him." So this young Hebrew whose future appeared to be full of promise as the world

GROWING THROUGH FELLOWSHIP WITH CHRIST

John 15:1-5; Philippians 3:8-16

Memory selection: One thing I do, forgetting what lies behind and straining forward to what lies ahead, I press on toward the goal for the prize of the upward call of God in Christ Jesus.—Phil. 3:13-14 Our lesson is a part of that intimate talk Jesus had with his disciples when the end of his human life was near. In this respect it seems appropriate at the close of the year. He spoke many words of comfort and helpfulness, but the particular thought of this portion is for the future; how his followers might continue to grow in faith, and develop the graces of character which He exemplified. Master teacher that He was Jesus employed an allegory by which his hearers easily understood the truths He meant to convey — the vine and the branches. Every Palestinian knew how necessary it was for vine and branches to stay together. His hearers would at once see how essential it is for a Christian to remain in closest fellowship with Christ, "For apart from me you can do nothing."

HAVE YOU THE COMBINATION?

One by one, over the centuries, men and women have been opening the door to life's richest treasure.

This New Year thousands more will learn the combination that unlocks our God-given destiny.

The joy of purposeful living, the confidence of courageous believing, the power of divine help, belong to every man who can rightly turn the dial of life to its appointed goal.

And the combination has been ours through twenty centuries, ever since the day of Jesus Christ!

Turn first to faith—the hunger of the heart for spiritual truth. Then to love—the capacity for unselfish devotion to one another. Then to God—the Source of All that is eternally real.

The Church helps us master the combination. Its worship and instruction help us to turn the course of our lives.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

NO MILITARY ALTERNATIVE TO CROSSING 38TH

(Editors note: This is one of a series of three stories by Reiman Morin, veteran Associated Press war correspondent, analyzing Far Eastern events since war broke out in Korea. Morin has just returned from four months in Japan and Korea. In today's article, he discusses the military campaign climaxed by Red China's entry.)

By REIMAN MORIN

New York, Dec. 29 (AP) — Parallel 38, where it bisects Korea, is a blood-red line now in American military history.

Should the United Nations' forces have stopped there?

Would the Chinese Communists have remained neutral — at least in the military sense — if the Eighth army had remained south of the line?

There are no easy answers to these questions. They will be debated for many years in the study of this first armed collision between the Communist world and the free nations. When the Eighth army went over the parallel it moved toward a date with destiny. These were the issues:

Not International Line

Parallel 38 was not, and never was intended to be an international boundary between two different Korean "states." It was a World War II military "phase line," meaning that it was fixed, for convenience, by Russian and American military commanders in the Orient. For administrative purposes, the Russians agreed to handle the surrender of the Japanese army north of parallel 38; the Americans disarmed and demobilized the Japanese south of the line.

That was all. The creation of a "North" and "South" Korea with separate governments, separate armies, and separate areas was never envisaged (by the Democracies, anyway) when the post-war settlements were being made.

Soviet advisors to the North Koreans, however, quickly turned parallel 38 into an actual boundary. The iron curtain dropped on it, and two Korean "states" thus came into being, in fact if not in law.

Reached Line October 1

The U.N. Army was created, last June and July, for two purposes.

One was to destroy the North Korean forces which invaded the south. The other was to clear the way for the Korean people, unimpeded by Communist overlords, to establish a single government for both halves of the country.

The Eighth army reached the 38th parallel on October 1.

At that time, the Korean Red army had been virtually destroyed as an organized fighting force. It was splintered into countless bands, ranging from a few hundred men to groups of regimental size (3,000) who had fled to the hills, for the most part, abandoning their heavy equipment, breaking off contact; in short, running for their lives. Only a few of the original 16 Red divisions were pulling back in good order into North Korea.

But all of them, organized and disorganized, had orders to make their way through the mountains by back roads and goat-paths, to rendezvous points on the other side of parallel 38. In scores of places, the Eighth army found these written instructions, or took the documents from captured officers.

The Red plan was to reorganize north of the "border."

In short, if the Eighth Army had halted there, the Reds would have carried out this plan, safe and unmolested in the vast reaches of North Korea. It would have been a matter of a month or two, at best, before they had re-grouped, received new arms and equipment from China, and been ready again for the field.

No Military Alternative

They then would have returned to the attack, at a time and place of their own choosing, while the Eighth Army sat quietly waiting for the blow to fall. Hence, from the military point of view, there was no alternative.

Moreover, the second objective—a unified Korea under one government—could not have been attained. The Communist regime was still in Pyongyang. And with Communist troops controlling the north, no U.N. commission could possibly have gone up to supervise the proposed Korean elections.

Thus, from the political view as well, the job was only half finished when the army reached the parallel.

It came up to the line on October 1. On that same date, an ominous rumble was heard in Peiping. The Communist Chinese foreign minister, Chou En-Lai, said in a speech: "China will not sit supinely and see her neighbor ravaged by the imperialists."

Not Just Talk

Apparently, the speech was appraised as mere sabre-rattling. Actually, it turned out to be a specific statement of intentions.

In that same week, as we now know, Chinese divisions began staging in Mukden. Two were ready to move by October 10. The Chinese began crossing the Yalu river into Korea on October 18, and they crossed in force October 21.

Where was American intelligence? Why didn't we know this? Why did we continue to move north?

General MacArthur's chief of intelligence, Major General Charles A. Willoughby, says we did know it. By October 28, a dozen or more Chinese prisoners were taken. Peiping said they were "volunteers," but the prisoners named their army units and said they had never heard anything about "volunteering."

Die Was Cast

The Chinese struck hard in early November and halted the U.N. race toward the Yalu river. Then, mysteriously, they disappeared for several weeks.

There was great hope on the U.N. side that they had made a brief "gesture" toward helping the defeated Korean Reds, and having done so, had gone back across the border into China.

Actually, they were building up strength in the mountains about 40 miles south of the Yalu. When the moment came, they struck.

Intelligence may not have known the size of the Chinese force. Certainly, it did not know the intentions of the Peiping government. But by that time, late November, the die was already cast, and for better or worse, there was nothing to do but fight it out.

Couple Observes 48th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Watson, Fairfield R. 1, celebrated their 48th wedding anniversary on Christmas Day.

They are the parents of 12 children, 10 of whom are living. Mr. Watson is 77 years of age and Mrs. Watson is 69. Both are reported in failing health.

A heavy three-wheeled carriage, propelled by steam cylinders, was built in Paris in 1769. Its top speed was three miles an hour.

Girl Scouts Hold Party Wednesday

A holiday party was held Wednesday evening for Girl Scout Troop 15, when Mrs. Carroll Arter, troop leader, was hostess to the Senior Scouts at her home on West King street. Games were played, under the direction of Miss E. Lorraine Myers, assistant troop leader. Mrs. Carl H. Baumgardner, president of the local Girl Scout committee, urged the girls to "continue to greater achievement." Mrs. Baumgardner pointed out that the Brownies "look up to the Girl Scouts and are looking forward to the day when they will be Girl Scouts and that the Brownies have expressed happiness and enjoyment for having the senior aids help the Brownie leaders." The girls have completed two school bags for schoolmates overseas and the bags are being sent to the county office some time this week.

Refreshments were served to those present by the hostess, Mrs. Arter. Scout aids present were Dolores Rae Reindollar, Joyce Clapsaddle and Nancy Renner, and Troop 15 members were Joan Shull, Shirley Brown, Dixie Nester, Laura Stock, Nancy Kershner, Alvina Graft, Shirley Stonesifer, Carol Jefferies and Ruthanna Good. The next meeting of the Scouts will be held on Thursday evening at 6 o'clock in the fire engine house. The Scout program for 1951 will be outlined at this meeting.

They'll buy sparkling style, spacious comfort and the durable, dependable, time-tested quality for which Buicks are famous.

And when you check what you get for what you pay, you'll make this discovery.

On a pounds-per-dollar basis—which is the engineers' yardstick of bedrock value—no other cars of comparable dimensions can beat a Buick SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER.

Or to be more specific—Buick's straight-eight SPECIAL is priced like a six—and in the ROADMASTER "price class" you can pay 23% or more than you'll pay for these great automobiles.

But note this fact: Our supply of these bargains is limited—so you'd better come in now and see what we have on hand.

Find Missing Son On West Coast

Charlertoi, Pa., Dec. 29 (P) — A mother who spent Christmas Day listening for a telephone call from her missing 19-year-old son has found him in California.

Mrs. Emil Huttner and her husband made a nationwide appeal Christmas night for help in finding the son, William, a former student at Pennsylvania State college. He disappeared November 6.

The appeal was answered by officials at the Pittsburgh and Washington, Pa., posts of the Reserve Officers Corps. William, an Army Reservist, had notified officials of a new address in Los Angeles. He told a friend he couldn't stand cold weather, and wanted to live in a warmer climate.

Mrs. Huttner said yesterday: "I'd like to go out there myself. If he's happy where he is, it's what we want, too."

The salmon frequently travels 2,000 miles or more to return to its spawning ground and die.

Order ERP Signs Down In Austria

Vienna, Dec. 29 (P)—Marshall Plan funds have been used to rebuild Federal roads and bridges in the Russian zone of Austria and for several Federal agricultural projects. At each project—about 60 in all—Austrian and ERP authorities erected huge signs: "This work is being done with ERP funds."

They have stood untouched up to two years. Now the Russians have realized the signs counteract all the Communist agitation against ERP. Soviet commanders have ordered local Austrian officials to pull them down.

Rayon upholstery fabrics may be safely cleaned at home by using soapless lathers as directed on the container. Clean a small area at a time, rubbing suds well into fabric, then wipe the fabric with a clean cloth or sponge.

DEEP WELL COOKER

The deep well cooker needs an extra bit of warm soapy water as it is likely to be neglected. Dribbles of soup might cling to the walls and pass unnoticed. Treat the cooker to a thorough soapy scrub. Don't put the cover in water. Just wipe it clean.

Research has shown that brunettes prefer red, while blondes usually prefer blue. Latin races like the warmer, more brilliant hues. Nordics usually favor cooler, softer tones.

NO MILITARY ALTERNATIVE TO CROSSING 38TH

(Editors note: This is one of a series of three stories by Reiman Morin, veteran Associated Press war correspondent, analyzing Far Eastern events since war broke out in Korea. Morin has just returned from four months in Japan and Korea. In today's article, he discusses the military campaign climaxed by Red China's entry.)

By REIMAN MORIN

New York, Dec. 29 (AP) — Parallel 38, where it bisects Korea, is a blood-red line now in American military history.

Should the United Nations' forces have stopped there?

Would the Chinese Communists have remained neutral — at least in the military sense — if the Eighth army had remained south of the line?

There are no easy answers to these questions. They will be debated for many years in the study of this first armed collision between the Communist world and the free nations. When the Eighth army went over the parallel it moved toward a date with destiny. These were the issues:

Not International Line

Parallel 38 was not, and never was intended to be an international boundary between two different Korean "states." It was a World War II military "phase line," meaning that it was fixed, for convenience, by Russian and American military commanders in the Orient. For administrative purposes, the Russians agreed to handle the surrender of the Japanese army north of parallel 38; the Americans disarmed and demobilized the Japanese south of the line.

That was all. The creation of a "North" and "South" Korea with separate governments, separate armies, and separate areas was never envisaged (by the Democracies, anyway) when the post-war settlements were being made.

Soviet advisors to the North Koreans, however, quickly turned parallel 38 into an actual boundary. The iron curtain dropped on it, and two Korean "states" thus came into being, in fact if not in law.

Reached Line October 1

The U.N. Army was created, last June and July, for two purposes.

One was to destroy the North Korean forces which invaded the south. The other was to clear the way for the Korean people, unimpeded by Communist overlords, to establish a single government for both halves of the country.

The Eighth army reached the 38th parallel on October 1.

At that time, the Korean Red army had been virtually destroyed as an organized fighting force. It was splintered into countless bands, ranging from a few hundred men to groups of regimental size (3,000) who had fled to the hills, for the most part, abandoning their heavy equipment, breaking off contact; in short, running for their lives. Only a few of the original 16 Red divisions were pulling back in good order into North Korea.

But all of them, organized and disorganized, had orders to make their way through the mountains by back roads and goat-paths, to rendezvous points on the other side of parallel 38. In scores of places, the Eighth army found these written instructions, or took the documents from captured officers.

The Red plan was to reorganize north of the "border."

In short, if the Eighth Army had halted there, the Reds would have carried out this plan, safe and unmolested in the vast reaches of North Korea. It would have been a matter of a month or two, at best, before they had re-grouped, received new arms and equipment from China, and been ready again for the field.

No Military Alternative

They then would have returned to the attack, at a time and place of their own choosing, while the Eighth Army sat quietly waiting for the blow to fall. Hence, from the military point of view, there was no alternative.

Moreover, the second objective—a unified Korea under one government—could not have been attained. The Communist regime was still in Pyongyang. And with Communist troops controlling the north, no U.N. commission could possibly have gone up to supervise the proposed Korean elections.

Thus, from the political view as well, the job was only half finished when the army reached the parallel.

It came up to the line on October 1. On that same date, an ominous rumble was heard in Peiping. The Communist Chinese foreign minister, Chou En-Lai, said in a speech: "China will not sit supinely and see her neighbor ravaged by the imperialists."

Not Just Talk

Apparently, the speech was appraised as mere sabre-rattling. Actually, it turned out to be a specific statement of intentions.

In that same week, as we now know, Chinese divisions began staging in Mukden. Two were ready to move by October 10. The Chinese began crossing the Yalu river into Korea on October 18, and they crossed in force October 21.

Where was American intelligence? Why didn't we know this? Why did we continue to move north?

General MacArthur's chief of intelligence, Major General Charles A. Willoughby, says we did know it. By October 28, a dozen or more Chinese prisoners were taken. Peiping said they were "volunteers," but the prisoners named their army units and said they had never heard anything about "volunteering."

Die Was Cast

The Chinese struck hard in early November and halted the U.N. race toward the Yalu river. Then, mysteriously, they disappeared for several weeks.

There was great hope on the U.N. side that they had made a brief "gesture" toward helping the defeated Korean Reds, and having done so, had gone back across the border into China.

Actually, they were building up strength in the mountains about 40 miles south of the Yalu. When the moment came, they struck.

Intelligence may not have known the size of the Chinese force. Certainly, it did not know the intentions of the Peiping government. But by that time, late November, the die was already cast, and for better or worse, there was nothing to do but fight it out.

Girl Scouts Hold Party Wednesday

A holiday party was held Wednesday evening for Girl Scout Troop 15, when Mrs. Carroll Arter, troop leader, was hostess to the Senior Scouts at her home on West King street. Games were played, under the direction of Miss E. Lorraine Myers, assistant troop leader. Mrs. Carl H. Mrs. Baumgardner pointed out that the Brownies "look up to the Girl Scouts and are looking forward to the day when they will be Girl Scouts and that the Brownies have expressed happiness and enjoyment for having the senior aids help the Brownie leaders." The girls have completed two school bags for schoolmates overseas and the bags are being sent to the county office some time this week.

Refreshments were served to those present by the hostess, Mrs. Arter. Scout aids present were Dolores Rae Reindollar, Joyce Clapsaddle and Nancy Renner, and Troop 15 members were Joan Shull, Shirley Brown,

SEES NO CHANCE OF ACCORD ON JAPANESE PACT

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Dec. 29 (AP)—A final split between Russia and the United States over drafting a Japanese peace treaty appears almost inevitable.

An exchange of notes between the two powers, the latest released here last night, disclosed several major points of conflict which diplomats doubt can be resolved. The United States shows every intention of pressing for a treaty regardless of Russia's attitude.

The American note released last night answered half a dozen questions which the Soviet Union had put to this government on November 20 regarding American intentions on a peace settlement.

Points of difference which now emerge from the exchange are mainly these:

Act Without Russia

1. The United States rejects Russia's contention that any of the great powers should have a veto over the treaty. This means that if Russia will not go along on terms acceptable to this and other friendly nations, then the United States is prepared to go forward without Russia.

2. The United States is going ahead without consulting Communist China, despite Russia's emphasis on Red Chinese interest in Japan. It is pointed out that Washington has no diplomatic relations with the Peking regime. Moreover there is no current prospect that such relations will be established.

3. The United States considers that it is "reasonable" for Japan to participate with this and with other nations in arrangements for a Japanese defense which "could include provision for the stationing in Japan of troops of the United States and other nations."

Policy On Formosa

4. The United States is standing by its proposal for a future decision, either by the great powers or by the United Nations, on the status of Formosa. This is U. S. policy despite the 1943 Cairo agreement that measures success, permitted God to prune his natural desires until only the essentials were left. And among them was this, "That I may know Him and the power of his resurrection."

To obtain spiritual power was now Paul's ambition, and with that as his main objective his life became abundantly fruitful. The application to any individual life is obvious. Many legitimate desires and interests must be severely pruned until only faith in Christ, and the things related to it, stand out as the main concern of the Christian. That sometimes calls for a complete readjustment but there is no other way to the goal of genuine fruitfulness. Paul made no claim to perfection, but declared in these well-known words, "I press on toward the goal for the prize of the upward call of God in Christ Jesus." That must be the sacred ambition of every true Christian, and it is attained only by unbroken fellowship with Jesus Christ. As one year closes and another opens before us there should be a conscientious review of one's life in relation to God and his purpose.

Short Review

A quick review of the topics and Bible selections of the past quarter reveals that the development of the Christian life was the main theme. Growth was the key-word. Even when the stewardship of money, life and the Gospel as discussed, the beneficial reflection on the individual was emphasized. It will pay spiritual dividends to recall these topics and fix in mind the leading thoughts.

Formosa should be restored to China. The Russians interpret that as meaning Communist China.

This country's view about Formosa as presented to Moscow appears to be that because of the Chinese aggression in Korea against United Nations forces, U.N. considerations now take precedence over the Cairo declaration.

The exchange of notes began on October 26.

TRUMAN CALLS HOOVER TALK ISOLATIONISM

Washington, Dec. 29 (AP)—President Truman's comment that the nation is going to steer clear of isolationism set the stage today for Republican John Foster Dulles to join the "great national debate" on foreign policy.

Mr. Truman at his news conference yesterday pinned the isolationist label on former President Herbert Hoover's proposal to concentrate on Western Hemisphere defense until Western Europe demonstrates it has the will and presented. As we look ahead it is well to remember what Oliver Cromwell wrote in his Bible, "If I cease becoming better, I shall soon cease to be good."

ability to meet Communist aggression.

Dulles, announcing in advance that he agrees with much Mr. Hoover said, is scheduled to state his own views tonight in an address at New York to the American Association for the United Nations. Dulles, advisor to Secretary of State Acheson, said however he would express a viewpoint "somewhat different" from Hoover's.

Not An Answer To Hoover

In a telegram to Hoover, Dulles said he regretted his speech had been billed in advance as a reply to the former President. He explained his purpose was to make a contribution to the "great national debate" upon the grave issues of our time.

The State Department has made plain it expects Dulles to support the basic administration policy of collective security through the North Atlantic Pact.

Guy Gabrielson, Republican national chairman, said the former New York senator had consulted neither Congressional Republican leaders nor the GOP national committee. He said Dulles therefore would speak either as an individual or as Acheson's advisor, but not for the Republican party.

Speaks Bluntly

Mr. Truman spoke out bluntly when he was asked at his news conference to comment on Hoover's address, which had expressed views endorsed by many Republicans in Congress.

Hoover's broadcast address December 20 proposed that the U. S. quit sending men and money until the Western Europeans themselves raise an army big enough "to erect a sure dam against the Red flood." Hoover also urged the nation to concentrate on turning the Western Hemisphere into a "Gibraltar" with defense frontiers extending from Britain to Japan.
